BROCK AWARDED FOR EXCELLENCE IN EQUINE PRACTICE

AUSTIN, March 19, 2008—The Texas Veterinary Medical Association (TVMA) named Lamesa veterinarian, Dr. Bo Brock, the 2008 Equine Practitioner of the Year. TVMA annually recognizes individuals in veterinary practice who best exemplify the standards and ideals of the veterinary profession. Dr. Brock was presented with this honor March 2 at the TVMA Annual Conference in College Station, TX.

Dr. Brock's accomplishments, skills and contributions to equine veterinary medicine are innumerable. He is an advocate for veterinary medicine as a profession, and in his 17-year membership in TVMA, he has spent the last three years on the Board of Directors and currently serves as Chairman of the TVMA Equine Committee.

Dr. Brock is one of nearly 80 Board-certified equine practitioners in the nation, and names providing the area of West Texas with the most advanced level of veterinary medicine as his goal. He is the owner and founder of Brock Veterinary Clinic and lives in Lamesa with his wife, Kerri, and three daughters, Emili, Abbi, and Kimmi. He is an educator, an author, a tireless practitioner and a beacon of professionalism.

TVMA honors veterinarians in the state of Texas who are exemplary doctors, researchers, leaders, and individuals. TVMA is committed to ongoing excellence from the members of its organization and takes pride in the opportunity to provide continuing education and recognition for veterinarians at its conference each year.
